

Tuesday, 3rd of September

Room/ time	O100	O95	O96	O99
13:00	Welcome: Claes de Vreese & Lena Frischlich Keynote Sandra Gonzáles Bailon: Information networks and platform power
14:00	Coffeebreak
14:30	Panel A1: News from the fringes	Panel B1: Theoretical foundations of digital democracy and citizenship	Panel C1: Visuals and visual methods in the age of digital democracy	Panel D1: Citizens in digital democracies around the world
	Panel chair:	Panel chair:	Panel chair:	Panel chair:
	Heidi Schulze; Lisa Merten; Cornelius Puschmann: Audience fragmentation at the fringes? A network analytical approach combining tracking and survey data to investigate changes in alternative and hyperpartisan news use	Peter Danholt: Digital citizenship as folding	Renée Ridgway: Screenshotting partial perspectives: a digital method for comprehending search results and empowering citizen agency	Łukasz Dulęba: The political, algorithmic governance and erosion of democratic legitimacy
	Leif H. Pedersen: Unraveling alternative news media use: A crucial frontier in understanding digital democracy and citizenship	Stig Børsen Hansen: Network internalities as informational, focal practices	Simon Erfurth, Johanna Eggers & Marilia Gehrke: Securing news authenticity: A novel approach for combating misinformation in the age of generative AI through digital signatures for images	Pilleriin Lillemets: E-Estonia - a digital society in transformation
	Miriam Kroman Brems: A left-right divide? Alternative news use and political trust, populist attitudes, and populist vote intentions in the case of Denmark	Ejvind Hansen: Theorizing silent thoughtfulness as normative demand	Johanna Eggers: Measuring the impact of authenticity labels on user engagement and news choice in online feeds	Mads Vestergaard: Too much trust in technology? On digital optimism and the new Danish Property Assessment System
	Frederik Møller Henriksen; Jakob Bæk Kristensen; Leif Hemming Pedersen; Eva Mayerhöffer: How do digital far-right networks shape the politics of nature? A	Sten Schaumburg-Müller: "The public sphere" digitized and globalized		Tashfeen Ahmad: The government of Jamaica's electronic procurement system: Experiences and lessons learned

	mapping of anti-environmental discourse in Austria, Denmark, Germany, and Sweden from 2019–2022
15:30	Coffeebreak
16:00	Panel A2: Top-down and bottom-up flows of digital political communication	Panel B2: Digital data and vulnerable populations	Panel C2: Digital methods for studying democracy and citizenship	Panel D1: Content from the fringes
	Panel chair:	Panel chair:	Panel chair:	Panel chair:
	Majbritt K. Severin-Nielsen , Sanne Kriukemeier, Jakob Ohme & KristianGade Kjellmann: Making sense of the permanent in a hybrid media environment: Parliamentarians' cross-media behaviours and strategies during routine and election times	Ulrikke Dybdal Sørensen & David Budtz Pedersen: Knowledge brokering for responsible AI	Eva Mayerhöffer & Jens Ulrik Hansen: Should we still be looking for echo chambers? A framework for studying polarization dynamics on social media	Anton Elias Holt: Maliciously flagged content on Facebook
	Mads Fuglsang Hove: Measuring elite perception of voters' ideological positions in targeted advertisements on social media	Raphaëla Edler & Lama Ranjous: Democracy of digital data in human rights investigations	Natalia Miranda: Analyzing social movements through tweets. Methodological frameworks and challenges.	Tanja Marie Hansen, Jesper Rasmussen, Simon Tobias Karg & Lasse Lindekilde: Everyday activists: How partisanship motivates both online haters and counter-speakers
	Peter Aagaard: The praxis of digitally mediated advocacy groups	Sara Dahlman & Lise Munk Pedersen: 'Emotions are real'. On Replika, posthuman intimacy and digital sex work	Tim Schatto-Eckrodt: Coalitions across networks: The dynamics of climate activism on social media	Nuri Sadida; Maurice Vergeer & Marieke Fransen: Unraveling affective polarization in Indonesia: Exploring the impact of derogatory information, media literacy, and perceived intergroup threats in a social media landscape
	Mykola Makhortykh; Maryna Sydorova; Victoria Vziatysheva & Vihang Jumle: Finders, keepers: A systematic investigation of algorithmic bias in politics-related web searches in Switzerland	Maj Nygaard-Christensen: Analogue solutions to digital problems: A street-level mapping of digitalized service journeys at the intersection of homelessness and drug use	David Wegmann: Introducing a new method: mapping YouTube usage with computational analysis of online video content	Rimgailė Kasparaitė: Multistakeholder partnerships in communications policy for digital resilience
17:30	Break
18:30	Conference Dinner: Restaurant Nordatlanten, Nordatlantisk Promenade 1, 5000 Odense

Wednesday, 4th of September
Room/ time	O100	O94	O96	O99
08:30	Welcome Coffee
09:00	Panel A3: Politics in citizens' digital lifeworlds	Panel B3: Digital citizenship between surveillance and empowerment	Panel C3: Algorithms and AI at work	Panel D3: Expert Panel: bridging the science - praxis gap to make AI work
	Panel chair:	Panel chair:	Panel chair:
	Victoria Vziatysheva; Mykola Makhortykh; Maryna Sydorova; Vihang Jumle: Vote for or against? How Swiss users formulate search queries to find political information on search engines	Hossein Derakhshan: Society-of-one: The socio-spatiality of everyday algorithmic listening and an emergent social order built on mass automated personalization	Simon Noam Karlin: Artificial intelligence at work: An ethnographic investigation of the strategic implementation of intelligent technologies		Jonas Vistrup (SDU, IMADA); Eva Maria Knudsen (Odense Municipality); Claes the Vreese (SDU, DDC); T.B.A.
	Esther Oluffa Pedersen: Who to Trust? Princess Kate on Instagram and X	Lukasz Duleba: The political, algorithmic governance and erosion of democratic legitimacy	Arjen van Dalen: The algorithms behind the headlines revisited - How generative AI redefines the professional skills of human journalists
	Gitte Stald: Mobile citizenship. Young Danes' experiences with becoming citizens in charge in the digital society	Niels Jørgen Gommensen: Towards democratic data agency: Unveiling public attitudes and concerns towards online data practices	Laurence Dierickx: A critical approach to risk mitigation strategies for the use of generative AI in journalism practice
	Anja Bechmann: The influence of YouTube influencers on political opinions and behaviour	Peter Aagaard: Community-driven data spaces	Johanna Eggers: Reclaiming control of authenticity along online news routes: The potentials of strategic cooperation of news producers and labeling instances
10:30	Coffeebreak
11:00	Keynote Jakob Ohme: Move slow but fix things - artificial intermediaries in political platform environments
	Closing remarks: Claes de Vreese
12:00	Lunch				