

Program Overview

Tuesday, 03rd of September

Room	O100	O95	O96	O99
08:30 – 09:00	Registration and welcome coffee for participants at the PhD workshop
09:00 – 12:00	PhD Workshop
12:00 – 13:00	Registration and welcome coffee at the main entrance
13:00 – 14:00	Welcome, Keynote: Sandra González-Bailón
14:00 – 15:30	Panel A1: News from the fringes	Panel B1: Theoretical foundations of digital democracy and citizenship	Panel C1: Visuals and visual methods in the age of digital democracy	Panel D1: Citizens in digital democracies around the world
15:30- 16:00	Coffee break
16:00 – 17:30	Panel A2: Top-down and bottom-up flows of digital political communication	Panel B2: Digital data and vulnerable populations	Panel C2: Digital methods for studying democracy and citizenship	Panel D2: Content from the fringes
18:30	Conference dinner at Restaurant Nordatlanten, Nordatlantisk Promenade 1, 5000 Odense C

Wednesday, 04th of September

Room	O100	O94	O96	O99
08:30 – 09:00	Welcome coffee at the main entrance
09:00 – 10:30	Panel A3: Politics in citizens' digital life worlds	Panel B3: Digital citizenship between surveillance and empowerment	Panel C3: Algorithms and AI at work	Panel D3: Interactive expert Panel: Bridging the science—praxis gap to make AI work
10:30 – 11:00	Coffee break at the main entrance
11:00 – 12:00	Keynote: Jakob Ohme, Closing remarks
12:00 – 13:00	Lunch at the main entrance

Detailed Program for the Main Conference

Tuesday, 3rd of September
Room	O100	O95	O96	O99
12:00	Registration and welcome coffee at the main entrance
13:00	Welcome: Claes de Vreese & Lena Frischlich Keynote, Sandra Gonzáles Bailon: Information networks and platform power
14:00	Panel A1: News from the fringes	Panel B1: Theoretical foundations of digital democracy and citizenship	Panel C1: Visuals and visual methods in the age of digital democracy	Panel D1: Citizens in digital democracies around the world
	Panel chair: Lena Frischlich	Panel chair: Christoph Raetzsch	Panel chair: Niels Jørgen Gommesen	Panel chair: Davide Morisi
	Heidi Schulze, Lisa Merten & Cornelius Puschmann: Audience fragmentation at the fringes? A network analytical approach combining tracking and survey data to investigate changes in alternative and hyper partisan news use	Peter Danholt & Peter Lauritsen: Digital citizenship as folding	Renée Ridgway: Screenshotting partial perspectives: a digital method for comprehending search results and empowering citizen agency	Łukasz Dułęba: The political, algorithmic governance and erosion of democratic legitimacy
	Leif H. Pedersen: Unravelling alternative news media use: A crucial frontier in understanding digital democracy and citizenship	Stig Børsen Hansen: Network internalities as informational, focal practices	Simon Erfurth, Johanna Eggers & Marilia Gehrke: Securing news authenticity: A novel approach for combating misinformation in the age of generative AI through digital signatures for images	Pilleriin Lillemets: E-Estonia - a digital society in transformation
	Miriam K. Brems: A left-right divide? Alternative news use and political trust, populist attitudes, and populist vote intentions in the case of Denmark	Ejvind Hansen: Theorizing silent thoughtfulness as normative demand	Johanna Eggers: Measuring the impact of authenticity labels on user engagement and news choice in online feeds	Mads Vestergaard: Too much trust in technology? On digital optimism and the new Danish Property Assessment System
	Frederik M. Henriksen, Jakob B. Kristensen, Leif H. Pedersen & Eva Mayerhöffer: How do digital far-right networks shape the politics of nature? A mapping of anti-environmental discourse in Austria, Denmark, Germany, and Sweden from 2019–2022	Sten Schaumburg-Müller: "The public sphere" digitized and globalized	Janet Rafner: AI-Enhanced Participatory Democracy: giving the public a voice in future scenario planning and decision making	Tashfeen Ahmad: The government of Jamaica's electronic procurement system: Experiences and lessons learned

Program Tuesday, 3rd of September, continued

15:30	Coffee break at the main entrance
Room	O100	O95	O96	O99
16:00	Panel A2: Top-down and bottom-up flows of digital political communication	Panel B2: Digital data and vulnerable populations	Panel C2: Digital methods for studying democracy and citizenship	Panel D2: Content from the fringes
	Panel chair: Arjen van Dalen	Panel chair: Esther Oluffa Pedersen	Panel chair: Mia Lunding Christensen	Panel chair: Miriam Kroman Brehms
	Majbritt K. Severin-Nielsen , Sanne Kriukemeier, Jakob Ohme & Kristian Gade Kjellmann: Making sense of the permanent in a hybrid media environment: Parliamentarians' cross-media behaviours and strategies during routine and election times	Ulrikke Dybdal Sørensen & David Budtz Pedersen: Knowledge brokering for responsible AI	Eva Mayerhöffer & Jens Ulrik Hansen : Should we still be looking for echo chambers? A framework for studying polarization dynamics on social media	Anton Elias Holt : Maliciously flagged content on Facebook
	Mads Fuglsang Hove : Measuring elite perception of voters' ideological positions in targeted advertisements on social media	Raphaela Edler & Lama Ranjous: Democracy of digital data in human rights investigations	Natalia Miranda : Analyzing social movements through tweets. Methodological frameworks and challenges.	Tanja Marie Hansen , Jesper Rasmussen, Simon Tobias Karg & Lasse Lindekilde: Everyday activists: How partisanship motivates both online haters and counter-speakers
	Peter Aagaard : The praxis of digitally mediated advocacy groups		Tim Schatto-Eckrodt : Coalitions across networks: The dynamics of climate activism on social media	Nuri Sadida , Maurice Vergeer & Marieke Fransen: Unraveling affective polarization in Indonesia: Exploring the impact of derogatory information, media literacy, and perceived intergroup threats in a social media landscape
	Mykola Makhortykh; Maryna Sydorova; Victoria Vziatysheva & Vihang Jumle: Finders, keepers: A systematic investigation of algorithmic bias in politics-related web searches in Switzerland		David Wegmann : Introducing a new method: mapping YouTube usage with computational analysis of online video content	Rimgailė Kasparaitė : Multistakeholder partnerships in communications policy for digital resilience
17:30	Break
18:30	Conference dinner at Restaurant Nordatlanten, Nordatlantisk Promenade 1, 5000 Odense C

Wednesday, 4th of September
Room	O100	O94	O96	O99
08:30	Welcome coffee at the main entrance
09:00	Panel A3: Politics in citizens' digital life worlds Panel chair: Lasse Lindekilde Victoria Vziatysheva; Mykola Makhortykh; Maryna Sydorova; Vihang Jumle: Vote for or against? How Swiss users formulate search queries to find political information on search engines Esther Oluffa Pedersen: Who to Trust? Princess Kate on Instagram and X Gitte Stald: Mobile citizenship. Young Danes' experiences with becoming citizens in charge in the digital society Anja Bechmann: The influence of YouTube influencers on political opinions and behavior	Panel B3: Digital citizenship between surveillance and empowerment Panel chair: Sten-Schaumburg Müller Niels Jørgen Gommensen: Towards democratic data agency: Unveiling public attitudes and concerns towards online data practices Peter Aagaard: Community-driven data spaces	Panel C3: Algorithms and AI at work Panel chair: Sine N. Just Simon Noam Karlin: Artificial intelligence at work: An ethnographic investigation of the strategic implementation of intelligent technologies Arjen van Dalen: The algorithms behind the headlines revisited - How generative AI redefines the professional skills of human journalists Laurence Dierickx: A critical approach to risk mitigation strategies for the use of generative AI in journalism practice Johanna Eggers: Reclaiming control of authenticity along online news routes: The potentials of strategic cooperation of news producers and labeling instances	Panel D3: Interactive expert Panel: bridging the science—praxis gap to make AI work Moderation: Claes de Vreese Jonas Vistrup (SDU, IMADA); Eva Maria Knudsen (Odense Kommune); Theis Gaarde Engmann (JFM)
10:30	Coffee break at the main entrance
11:00	Keynote, Jakob Ohme: Move slow but fix things: artificial intermediaries in political platform environments Closing remarks: Claes de Vreese
12:00	Lunch at the main entrance			